Summary

Full Stack Developer passionate about transforming ideas into impactful technological solutions.

Since I wrote my first line of code, I knew that development was not just my profession, but my calling. I am motivated by continuous learning, exploring new technologies and best practices, always striving to write clean, scalable, and maintainable code that adheres to the highest standards.

My greatest achievement: I led the development of a comprehensive system for currency trading management, where I:

- Expanded my technical skills with Vue.js, robust backend, job queues, and managing Linux VPS servers for scalable hosting.
- Drove results: Increased transaction volume by 50% and strengthened customer trust with improvements in security and operational efficiency.

In my day-to-day:

- I optimize SQL queries to reduce response times and enhance user experience.
- I revamp and modernize web pages with React, prioritizing intuitive interfaces and performance.
- I contribute critical improvements to APIs with .NET and Entity Framework Core, designing efficient queries that scale with business demands.
- I implement enhancements and new features in mobile apps with Dart and Flutter.

I believe in technology as an ally to solve real problems, and I am always ready to take on challenging projects.
